NO HOPE FOR TREATY.

Senator Refuses to Withdraw His Fight Against the Ratification.

CALLED SESSION IS PROBABLE.

Many Bills Await Action In the Senate, and a Continuous Session Will Be Held Until March Fourth.

Washington, March 2.—The senate has more than enough work to keep it occupied during the last week of the session, and, do the best it may, there will be much left undone when the gavel of the president pro tempore shall fall at the close of the final sitting at noon Wednesday, when the last session of the Fifty-seventh congress will close by constitutional limitation. The calendar, even at this day, is quite full, and there are many more bills in committee than have been reported out. In the present congress, like most others, only about 10 or 12 per cent of the bills introduced become laws, but it is also to be said that the record of bills introduced far exceeds that of any previous congress. Tuesday's session will be continued until noon Wednesday, and the senate will be in almost continuous session day and night until then.

Aside from the appropriation bills and conference reports preference will be given to the Aldrich bond deposit bill. Senator Aldrich expresses confidence that this bill will pass during the day, but some of the Democratic senators say that its passage is doubtful. There is also great anxiety to get action on the Philippine tariff bill, and while there is also opposition to this measure, it is intimated that this antagonism might cease in case of a cessation of the efforts to pass the bond deposit bill, but Senator Aldrich is not disposed to yield to this kind of argument.

There will be a determined effort to get the Philippine bill in shape to send to the president before the final dissolution of congress on Wednesday, but this, as intimated above, may depend on the fate of the financial measure. All senators understand the fact that this time in the session any one or two of them can prevent the passage of any individual measure. A final attempt will be made to press the Panama canal treaty to a conclusion in the hope that Senator Morgan may relent in his opposition and allow the treaty to be ratified rather than force an extra session of the senate. His friends, say, however, that he has no such intention, and they add that he is willing to accept the full responsibility for a called session.

Senators generally, therefore, have given up all hope of avoiding the extra session, and now are concerned principally as to the time it shall begin and the length of time it shall occupy. Some of them are advising the president not to ask the body to reassemble before Monday, the 9th instant, while Senator Aldrich is urging that the call be issued for the 5th instant, the day after the dissolution of the present congress.

The principal, if not the only duty of the extra session, will be the consideration of the Panama treaty and the Cuban reciprocity treaty, but the senate may, if it so desires, take up the question of the reorganization of the committees.

Missing Lad Found.

Indianapolis, March 2.—Thornton Stansfield, 13, son of Dr. Stansfield, pastor of the Meridian Street church, who disappeared from home Tuesday, was located at the home of Josiah Millikan at Saginaw, Mich., a former neighbor of Dr. Stansfield at Port Huron, Mich. The city has been searched daily since the boy disappeared and the mayor issued a proclamation asking for a general search. Cities within a radius of 100 miles have taken part in the hunt. The boy gives no reason for leaving.

Phipps Donates Again.

Calcutta, March 2.—Henry Phipps, director of the Carnegie Steel company, who gave Lord Curzon, Feb. 1, $10,000 to be devoted to some practical object for scientific research promising to be of enduring benefit to India, and who Feb. 3 gave Lady Curzon, wife of the viceroy, $10,000 for her Victoria memorial midwifery fund, handed to Lord Curzon a further sum of $50,000 for the promotion of agricultural and scientific education.

Topeka, March 2.—The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway wage conference has agreed to an increase in salaries, effective at once, of 15 per cent for through freight, mixed train, local freight and work train conductors and brakemen and 12 per cent for passenger conductors, brakemen and baggagemen. The conference lasted over three weeks.

POTTER CASE SETTLED.

Union Man Will Remain a Member of New York Militia.

Schenectady, N. Y., March 2.—The Potter case has been settled by the painters' union abandoning its position, and William Potter will be allowed to go to work as a union painter and at the same time remain a member of the militia. These are exactly the terms which he has been standing out for for the last three months. The agreement was reached at a conference held here between a delegation from the painters' union, a committee from the Builders' Exchange, the organization of all local employers in the building trades, and First Vice President Hedrick of the International Painters' union. Hedrick told the local painters that the Potter case had injured the organization more than anything that could happen to it, and it must be settled. He said the international executive board could grant the local union a dispensation to admit Potter and that he was sure the dispensation would be granted. The painters agreed to accept the proposition.

Will Continue to Filibuster.

Washington, March 2.—The Democrats of the house have decided to prosecute their filibuster until congress expires by limitation at noon March 4, and the remaining days of the session, therefore, promise to be largely repetitions of the last three—that is, all business will have to be transacted in the face of every obstacle which the minority can interpose. But even by the laborious processes to which the majority will be put it is believed ample time remains to get through the conference reports on the remaining five appropriation bills. There is slim chance for much beyond so far as the house is concerned. Twenty-seven bills with senate amendments are on the speaker's table. One or two of these may get through, but the great majority are doomed to die where they are. The one bill in which the Republican leaders are particularly interested is the Aldrich financial bill, and if it comes over from the senate a way will be found, probably through the operation of a special rule, to secure action on it.

Special Flood Warnings.

Memphis, March 2.—The Mississippi river is at a standstill at this point, the gauge marking 34 feet. The water covers an area of 10 miles in the Arkansas lowlands opposite this city, and the situation is becoming serious. Many farmers have left their houses and stock has been placed on high ground. A special flood warning issued by the local weather bureau says that it is probable the flood in the lower Mississippi valley may continue during the next 10 days or two weeks and reach stages from one to two feet higher than at the present time. The great strain on the levees in this session will occur in about nine days. At present the river is above the danger line from New Madrid to Helena, and with the rise of another foot a disastrous overflow surely will visit the Arkansas and lower Mississippi valleys.

Approaching Danger Line.

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 2.—The Ohio river is rapidly approaching the danger line, and predictions are that it will be in the lower streets soon. Forty-one feet are expected. So far no houses have been reached by the flood, but men have been busy all day moving goods out of cellars and warehouses in the wholesale district and moving people in low sections out of their homes. Many homes are flooded in the Little Kanawha valley. The cold snap will check the waters some and the Little Kanawha river is already falling.

General Manager Appointed.

Cleveland, March 2.—H. H. Robinson has been appointed general manager of the United States Telephone company, the long distance branch of the Federal Telephone company. Mr. Robinson succeeds Maxine Reber, who will hereafter devote his entire attention to the position of vice president of the Federal Telephone company. Mr. Robinson will have general jurisdiction over the entire United States Telephone company's system in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Fight Over Labor Trouble.

Ashland, Ky., March 2.—The first blood was shed in the labor trouble. When a party of nonunion men called for drinks the bartender said he had nothing to sell them. Words followed and the bartender struck one man on the head with a bung starter, inflicting a serious injury. Men are quartered at the mill, where cots have been placed. Rumors of an attack on the mill are considered groundless both by the company and the leaders of the strike.

If society took better care of its poor out of jail there would be less need of jails or jailers.—Boston Transcript.

VISITING THE RULERS.

President of the St. Louis Exposition Is Being Hospitably Received.

POPE ADDRESSES THE CARDINALS

His Holiness Disregards Advice of His Physicians, and Asserts He Will Continue His Duty to the End.

London, March 2.—President Francis of the St. Louis exposition left for Paris in consequence of a telegram from M. Le Grave, the French commissioner to the exposition, urging him to visit Paris, and saying President Loubet would like to receive him at the Elysee. After seeing President Loubet Mr. Francis intends to proceed to Madrid and thence to Berlin, where, if possible, he will have an audience with the German emperor March 9. He hopes to sail from Bremen March 10 on the Kron Prinz Wilhelm for New York.

The last day of President Francis in London was marked by an interesting luncheon given in his honor by Chief Justice Lord Alverstone, who will be a member of the British royal commission to the St. Louis fair.

Prior to his leaving Mr. Francis said that he could not have asked or expected more hospitality than had been shown him during his flying visit to England. "All classes," he remarked, "have exhibited much interest in the St. Louis exposition, and have treated me in the kindest possible way, for which I am very grateful."

Pope Receives Cardinals.

Rome, March 2.—Dr. Lapponi, the pope's physician, made a last effort to induce his holiness to renounce his reception of the cardinals. He remonstrated with him, saying: "Your holiness, my duty is to point out that your health would greatly benefit by your resting." The pope replied: "My dear doctor, before your valuable advice comes my duty, which I shall perform until the end." The audience was held in the pope's private library, and Leo XIII spoke continuously for half an hour with the 42 cardinals present. No address was delivered, and the most important words were when the pontiff referred with emphasis to his advanced age and approaching end. He was led to speak thereof in reminding the cardinals that the room in which he was receiving them was the same in which Pius IX held his last consistory, he (Leo XIII) being present, but in bed.

Gale Sweeps England.

London, March 2.—The gale was renewed on the British Isles and has continued, but with less violence. Vessels are still taking refuge in ports, battered by the storm. Others have gone ashore. A quantity of wreckage has been seen off the coast of Northumberland and the indications point to the wreck of the British ship Cambrian Prince, Captain Owens, Coombes for Middlesborough, which called at Queenstown Feb. 11. Later news from the south of Ireland shows that the gale was exceedingly fierce. The British steamer Pharsalia went through a terrible experience. The hurricane struck her Feb. 24 and the heavy seas flooded her hold, damaged her cargo, smashed the bridge and almost all the deck fittings, stove in the boats and swept the binnacle overboard. The captain's ribs were broken and several of the crew were injured.

Is a Friend of Ireland.

London, March 2.—Captain Shaw-Taylor, secretary of the Dublin landlords' conference, and who has just returned from a visit to the United States, describing his visit said: "President Roosevelt, who is himself half an Irishman, and extremely proud of it, received me most cordially. I believe there is nobody in the United States more anxious than he for Ireland's welfare. Referring to the Dublin conference, Mr. Roosevelt said: 'I am not speaking now as a politician when I say that, in company with the whole civilized world, I heartily welcome the prospect of a final settlement of the Irish land question.'"

Ends Her Existence.

Philadelphia, March 2.—A woman who gave her name as Mrs. Charlotte G. Wellington committed suicide by inhaling chloroform in a fashionable boarding house at Haddonfield, N. J., rear here. The woman left a note to the proprietor of the boarding house in which she said: "I am the last of a distinguished family, left alone that I am tired of life. Will you kindly see that my remains are decently buried? I enclose money to pay expenses. My clothes give to the poor. Please keep this as quiet as possible." With the note was $75.

FIREDAMP EXPLODES.

Miners Have a Very Narrow Escape. Two Victims.

Latrobe, Pa., March 2.—The Hostetter, Connellsburg Coke company's mine, near here, was the scene of a firedamp explosion, in which it is thought several men lost their lives.

The explosion occurred when the full force of men were at work, and it is considered almost a miracle that there were not more fatalities. About 800 men are employed in the mine, which is located four and a half miles west of this place on the Whitney branch of the Pennsylvania railroad. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. It occurred in what is known as No. 7 left flat entry, which is near the eastern end of the mine and about two miles from the main entry. Most of the force of miners at work were in the vicinity of the entry, in which the explosion occurred. The explosion was not heard outside of the mine, and none except those at work knew anything of it until those who escaped came rushing to the main entry and spread the news. A fire is raging fiercely and the mine will be flooded.

Family Thought Her Dead.

New York, March 2.—Miss Edith Curzon, of Redbank, N. J. is now recovering from pneumonia, after her family thought her dead. She posed as the goddess of liberty in Redbank's Washington's Birthday parade and caught cold which quickly prostrated her. Friday she died, apparently, and an undertaker was called in. As he was about to prepare the body for the shroud he was startled to perceive that the right arm, which was lain outside the bed spread, was now drawn up near the face. Then he noticed an eyelid twitch. The family were summoned, work was begun to keep alive the spark of life and after a time Miss Curzon was able to notice what was going on. She is improving now, with every chance of recovery.

Express Derailed.

Battle Creek, Mich., March 2.—As a result of the derailment of Grand Trunk westbound limited express No. 8 at the South Jefferson avenue crossing, one man was instantly killed, one was fatally injured and several were seriously hurt. The dead man is Bliss U. Parker, Battle Creek. The train was running at the rate of 15 miles an hour when derailed. A switch opened just after the engine and baggage cars had crossed, throwing the two day coaches and two sleepers onto a side track. Parker was standing in the street when the car struck him. He was instantly killed. One coach took fire and the fire department had to be called.

Ferries Collide.

New York, March 2.—There was a collision in the North river between the ferryboat New Jersey of the Pennsylvania company and the ferryboat Ridgewood of the Erie railroad company. Julian Legert of Rutherford, N. J., and William Hays of Paterson, N. J., were badly hurt. The New Jersey struck the Ridgewood on the men's cabin side, making a big hole in the side. The Ridgewood was crowded with passengers and a number of women on board became hysterical.

Streams Over Their Banks.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 2.—The rainstorm that visited this section at times assumed the proportions of a cloudburst. Lowlands in this city and suburbs are inundated and telegraph lines in several places are down. Washouts are reported on all railroads, the most serious being on the Cincinnati Southern, necessitating the running of trains via the Southern to Harriman and thence to Cincinnati. Streams are out of their banks, and the Tennessee is rising rapidly.

Astronomical Expedition.

San Francisco, March 2.—The D. O. Mills astronomical expedition from Lick university has sailed, with its destination in the neighborhood of Santiago, Chile. The expedition is in charge of Wm. H. Wright of Lick observatory and W. K. Palmer of the University of California. The government of Chile has taken official notice of the coming of the expedition and has offered to further its purposes in every way possible.

Gunboat Floated.

Mobile, Ala., March 2.—The United States gunboat Isle de Luzon, which went aground near the mouth of the river during a dense fog, has been floated. She came to this city under her own steam and anchored in the river. Her officers report that no damage as far as they know was sustained by the vessel, but a thorough examination will be made.

Rochester, March 2.—J. H. Baird of Guyville, O., aged 24, was instantly killed by falling from Vincent street bridge over the Genesee river to the roof of an electric light company's plant below, a distance of 75 feet. It is thought he stepped backward and fell. None of the other men knew much about him, as he had only been working on this job since Tuesday.

VICIOUS TENDENCIES.

Former Employer of Alfred Knapp Tells of Prisoner's Overt Acts.

HAD ATTEMPTED TO KILL WOMEN

Friend Shows First Evidence of Breaking Down Before Father of Murdered Child—Was Not Identified.

Hamilton, O., March 2.—Judge Belden said that he had not been asked to call a special grand jury in the Knapp case, and that there might be none, as the courts are very busy now. While convicted of minor offenses, Alfred Knapp was never charged with capital offenses until his brother-in-law last week started an investigation. With all the charges of incendiarism, robbery and other crimes it is conceded that his predominant trait is that of brutality. Two of his terms in penitentiaries were for criminal assaults that were not followed by murders.

The officers say he allured his victims to secluded spots before strangling them, and that his deliberation is shown in the precaution to evade detection. In the few months he lived in Hamilton he has shown these vicious tendencies. W. B. Carr, who employed Knapp, says: "Knapp one day, while at work on the third floor of the mill, saw a well known young man accompanied by a lady passing in the street. He had a large chisel in his hand which he buried at the couple in pure devilish abandonment, as he knew them not. Later he attempted to kill an unknown passing woman by hurling a chunk of iron at her in a similar way."

Knapp was visited by Herman Littleman of Cincinnati, father of little Emma Littleman, the victim of Knapp's first murder in Cincinnati. Littleman was unable to identify Knapp as any man whom he had ever seen or known. The most significant feature of the interview was the fact that for the first time Knapp expressed some little remorse and showed signs of breaking down before the enraged father. Littleman stood outside the cell after he had looked at Knapp and said: "I have never seen this man. I don't care to look at him any more." Knapp said: "I am just as sorry as can be that little Emma is dead. She had eyes and hair like yours."

As Littleman turned away tears stood in Knapp's eyes. This was his first demonstration in that way. Knapp does not use tobacco in any form and was not known as a drinker. He is a reader and is kept supplied with magazines and books, but not allowed to see newspapers. He enjoys card-playing with other prisoners.

Alaska Homestead Bill.

Washington, March 2.—The conference agreement on the Alaskan homestead bill presented in the house strikes out the senate provision prohibiting the use of soldiers' additional homestead rights in Alaska, leaving the law as it now exists. It limits the use of scrip to tracts not exceeding 160 acres, and reserves from such location along navigable or other waters tracts of not less than 80 rods in width between such entries. The amendment of the senate as to the commutation of homesteads is so modified that, while homesteads of 360 acres may be taken, only 160 acres may be commuted. The senate amendments relative to surveys is substantially accepted.

Bowen's Mother Dead.

Washington, March 2.—The United States minister to Venezuela and Mrs. Herbert W. Bowen left Washington for Brooklyn to attend the funeral services of Mr. Bowen's mother, Mrs. Ellen Hold Bowen. The sad news was a severe shock to the minister. Pressure of work here in connection with the Venezuelan negotiations had prevented the minister from leaving Washington since his arrival here in January. For several days past Mr. Bowen has been confined to his room with a fever. He will return to Washington in time to sign the Belgian protocol with Baron Moncheur, March 5.

Highest Water in Years.

Upper Sandusky, O., March 2.—Much damage has been done here by Sandusky river and Tymochee creek. A steel bridge was washed out at Crawfords, so that Hocking Valley trains had to go around by the way of Forest. The pumping station of the waterworks company in this city was so completely flooded that the roof of the building was raised over a foot and the water supply has been shut off. The streams are the highest they have reached in 19 years.

The receiver of the Boughton, Ford & Co. bank at Burton, O., reports that the bank had assets of $207,000 and liabilities approximating $300,000.

MR. KEHOE'S BILL.

Wants the Government to Furnish Each Public School With a Large Map of the United States.

Representative Kehoe has introduced a bill in Congress directing the Secretary of the Interior to have printed and mounted 250,000 of the large wall maps of the United States and possessions, similar to those distributed by members of the House, for distribution among the public free schools of the country.

This is very valuable and much-sought after public document, and it is the desire of Mr. Kehoe to place one on the walls of every house in America. If the bill becomes a law the Secretary of the Interior will be required to furnish one of the maps to each school district.

There are about 250,000 public free schools in America and the printing and mounting of the maps would cost the Government about $125,000. But Mr. Kehoe thinks it would be money well and properly expended. He will vigorously press his measure during the remainder of the session and in the next Congress and he believes it will ultimately become a law.

"Foxy Grandpa."

"Foxy Grandpa" will turn the tables upon his fun-loving grandsons, "Chub" and "Bunt" at the Washington Opera House on Wednesday evening. Made famous pictorially by artist Carl M. Schultz's inimitable comic sketches, this genial character, beloved by all children, has won the favor of all classes and ages through the merry blending of mirth and music in which he is exploited by William A. Brady. "Foxy Grandpa" as a stage entertainment was first presented in Atlantic City a year ago and met with instant success. Since then it has had a run of six months at the Fourteenth Theatre, New York, and has won enormous popularity. There are five new additions to the song list, "Polly, Pretty Polly," "The Bathing Lesson," "I'm Not at Liberty to Tell" and "Different Ways of Proposing." As a beauty show the chorus rivals any of the famous Broadway organizations. Sale of seats opens at Nelson's, Market Street, this afternoon.

The item elsewhere regarding lack of attention to sidewalk repairs is not founded on fiction by a long shot. A step into either one of the large holes mentioned means a bruised limb, if nothing worse. The writer learns of just such a misfortune happening to a lady in that locality not long ago, which resulted in painful injuries. A more serious accident would no doubt have resulted in a well-grounded suit for damages, and the city made pay dearly for its negligence.

B. M. Goodpaster, of Owingsville has purchased at administrator's sale a water mill and 346-acre farm belonging to the estate of F. M. Ewing for $20,271.00. This was the seventh farm from Ewing's estate to be sold in that section, making a total of 2,093 acres, bringing $140,734.90. There are several large tracts of land yet to be sold.

J. M. H. Gordon, at one time a resident of Maysville, died Feb. 24th, at his handsome home near New Vienna, O. He was a printer and worked with Samuel Pike. Mr. Gordon was one of New Vienna's influential and respected citizens, and in business circles was prominent.

SOW SURE SEEDS.

There are two kinds of seed houses. One raises no seed, but buys seed wherever they can get it the cheapest, taking the growers word as to kind and variety.

The other kind like Landreth's own great farms in different parts of the country, in charge of experienced seed growers and with every facility for growing seeds. They plant seeds of known variety, hence can be sure of the product.

If you want seed that you can be sure of—sure of variety—sure of growing—buy them here. These fresh reliable seeds cost no more than the other kind. Can you afford to take chances? Call and get a catalogue.

MERZ BROS.

A citizen reports an actual count of fourteen large, gaping sink holes alongside a stretch of pavement less than two hundred yards in length in a much neglected portion of the city. These monster death-traps have a fall of eight or ten feet and are not the result of the nasty weather of the past fortnight, but have existed for months, a daily menace to life or limb of pedestrians, and through possible damage suite, threaten to wipe out any fund the city might find available for improved streets. The BULLETIN's informant observes that if any of those in authority are ignorant of the location of these defects, they show surprising negligence, either as servants of the people or guardians of the city taxpayers' interests.

Over 200 members of the Christian Sunday school braved the storm last Friday evening and attended the "contest" supper. A bountiful spread of cakes, ice cream and other ices, fruits, salted peanuts and candies awaited them, the victorious "Blues" being served first. Mr. W. H. Ryder was present with one of his fine graphophones and rendered many selections, contributing much to the enjoyment of the evening. The chapel was prettily decorated in the rival colors, the Captains and their Lieutenants occupying seats at a large center table. It was an occasion that will long be pleasantly remembered.

Augusta Chronicle: "The Chatham Building Committee has decided upon the plans for their church. It will be 28x40 with recess in rear of the pulpit and extension entrance with cloak rooms to the right and left. With inclined floor and fresco finish it will be a building which will do credit to the many generous donors."

Mrs. Margaret Bradford, mother of W. A. Bradford, Tobacco Inspector of Cincinnati, died at Butler, Ky., aged eighty-four years.

Mr. James P. Egnew having failed to qualify as a member of the Board of Education, a vacancy now exists in the board from the Fourth ward.

The funeral of Mrs. Kate Delaney took place this morning from St. Patrick's Church and her remains were laid to rest in the Washington Cemetery.

The downpour of rain interfered with the attendance at the social at the First Baptist Church Friday night, but those who braved the storm spent a delightful evening.

Mr. Michael O'Neal, an old and highly esteemed citizen of Manchester, died Sunday. His remains will be brought here Tuesday morning and interred at the cemetery at Washington.

If you want to purchase the purest and best goods on earth go to G. W. COUNTERFEITING GANG.

Crude Work of the Principals Was Finished By Kiskadden Captured Friday at Georgetown.

AUGUSTA, KY., February 27.—That Augusta has for the past several months been infested with an organized band of counterfeiters is now evidenced in the arrest of Jed Kiskadden at Georgetown. Zack Gordley, his two sons, Henry and Edward, and Lou Hafer, now in the Newport jail awaiting trial, were the chief promoters, it is said, in making the spurious coin.

The molds are crude devices, being simply two small boxes filled with fine molding sand. They would make an impression in the sand with their patterns into which they would pour the metal. Marshal Teel went to-night with a batch of witnesses to Georgetown, Ky., to testify against Kiskadden, who, they say, put the finishing touches on the coins after they were molded. Several females are connected with the affair. All the arrested parties are residents of Augusta and are men of families, common laborers and ignorant of the ways of the world.

Kiskadden made a confession in which he says:

"I was born and reared in Bracken County, where some of my relatives now live. I went to Scott County twelve years ago and to Harrison two weeks ago. I now live on a farm owned by Moses Burgess. I have been very ill with fever and it settled in my knee. About three months ago the Judge of Scott County gave me a ticket to Maysville so that I might go to my uncle's and have my knee treated. From there I went to Augusta to the home of my sister, Mrs. Martha McClannahan. It was here the counterfeit dollars were made. When I got there my nephews, Lute Nelson and Edward McClannahan, gave me $6. I went to a store there owned by a man named Mercur to buy a pair of socks. I gave him a dollar and he gave me the change. After I had got down the pike a short distance he came after me and asked if I knew that it was a counterfeit dollar that I had given him. I said no, and when I saw that it was I gave the money back to him. After this I saw them make about thirty dollars. I threw away what I had left and told them that I did not want to fool with such fellows as they were."

"How did they make the money?"

"First they got two small boxes and filled them with sand. A genuine dollar was put on top of one box of sand and the other box of sand placed on top of this. It was left a short time to make an impression. A small wire or pin was also placed in the sand running from the outside to the edge of the dollar. An old silver-looking teapot was melted, and when everything was in readiness the box was taken off, the dollar and pin removed and the melted metal poured into the small hole made by the pin. After it had remained there for a short time the top of the box was raised, the dollar taken out and the same process gone through again.

The 2,411 hds. new tobacco offered averaged $7.14 per 100 lbs., as against $6.92 for the 2,651 hds. offered last week, and $7.28 for the 913 hds. in the corresponding week last year.

Offerings during the past week showed a slight decrease in both new and old, as compared with previous week, but were nearly one-third larger than the corresponding week of last year. Receipts also decreased very slightly and there was a pleasing falling off in the percentage of rejections, which declined from 25% to about 19 per cent.

The market on both new and old tobaccos was strong in some grades and weak and irregular in others, but the sharp falling off in rejections would indicate that it was generally satisfactory and prices acceptable to shippers.

In new tobacco the common and low types under $6.50 formed the bulk of the offerings. The packings in good condition and free from moisture sold well and about up to previous week's best figures, but bad order packages were severely discriminated against by the manufacturers and "passed up" to the redriers at shaded prices. Fine to fancy red leaf above $10 was also "off" somewhat and did not come up to sellers' expectations, but the irregularity here was due more to "house burn" and other minor defects than to any real shrinkage in values.

Fine to fancy bright leaf was very sparingly offered, less than fifty hds. selling above $12 and ranging from that figure to $14.75. Selections were also extremely scarce, a few packages scattering through the breaks bringing from $15 to $16.75.

The low grades of old were the weakest spot in the entire list and were principally taken by exporters.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Review of the Trade at Cincinnati For Week Ending February 28th.

[Cincinnati Live Stock Review.] With the commencement of the Lenten season supplies for cattle fell off, so that there was little surplus from day to day; on Wednesday the demand was sufficiently active to advance the price of most butchers and shippers. Stockers and feeders have not been burdensome and well sustained. Good milch cows are firm. Calves have taken a big drop from $8@$8.75 last week to $6 @ $6.75 for best.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the market for hogs was slow, with prices declining about 10c.

each day. Friday a stronger feeling developed, active and 5@10c. higher; altogether prices average 5@10c. lower than a week ago, although top quotations are the same. Receipts have been a little heavier and quality fair.

In consequence of quite an increase in receipts of sheep and lambs, the market changed from an active and firm one early to an easier one during the past few days and prices for both sheep and lambs about 25c. lower than a week ago, and at the close sheep are slow and barely steady, while lambs are dull and saggy.
